The Taylor Barry house is among architecturally ambitious homes that represent the rapid economic growth in Kennebunk in the early 1800's. You will find exquisite details of both the past and the present throughout the 6,000 square ft of living space. Fully modernized and updated, the owners have sensitively restored every square inch of this property. From the chef's kitchen to the luxurious master suite, you will find modern amenities that suit today's way of living while showcasing the old.
